SAVE MARSH BIRDS! LAKE ISLAND MOVE

Altona Council may seek permission from the Board of Works to create an island sanctuary for the marsh birds that inhabit Cherry Lake.

Denying recent claims by the Victorian National Parks Association that the lake is being destroyed as a haven for marsh birds of all varieties, Altona's Mayor, Cr. Harry Weaver, told the Star this week that the lake edge had a natural point that could be cut off to form an island.

10,000 BIKES IN WEST?

Police back SM's stand on dangers

Western region police last week backed Williamstown Magistrate, Mr. Wheelhouse, in a stern warning to youths riding unregistered mini and motor bikes around the district.

In the Williamstown Magistrates' Court last week Mr. Wheelhouse told a 17-year-old youth that he took a serious view of the practice.

"Take heed and tell all your mates," he said.

He fined the youth a total of $140 for riding without a licence, riding an unregistered bike and riding an uninsured bike. SEE COURT REPORT, PAGE 2.

Sergeant Roger Sievwright, of Altona, said the practice was prevalent in the area.

"There are about 5000 to 10,000 of these bikes in the western region being used for recreation," he said.

"Most are unregistered and their operators do not hold licences."

"I believe that police everywhere are looking forward to the new legislation which will require the bikes to be registered."

Sgt. Sievwright said it was against the law to even push an unregistered motor or mini bike on roadways or footpaths.

"However, parents seem unaware of this. They are also refusing to believe that once the youth is out of sight he'll stop pushing the bike and start riding."

"The case of one individual breaking the law by pushing an unregistered bike may seem minor, but it is a different matter when there are thousands around," he said.

"And the parents may regard it as minor until their son is killed in a road accident or injures someone else."

Sgt. Sievwright appealed to parents to trailer the bikes to reserves. He also urged them to register the vehicles as soon as the new regulation became law.

Williamstown police sergeant Peter McCluskey said police were waiting anxiously for the new legislation.

"Youths on motor and mini bikes which are unregistered are becoming a problem," he said.

Sgt. McCluskey also appealed to parents to keep a close check on the use of the bikes.

"We as a council appreciate the value of the lake," he said.

"After all, council belongs to the Australian Conservation League and we are doing all in our power to keep the lake for the birds."

"Not only have we warned mini-bike riders to keep off the lake area, we also obtained a track for them in conjunction with a local industry."

"The bike riders now have their own track on a piece of land on the north-west corner of the intersection of Kororoit Creek Road and Millers Road."

"We are calling a meeting of horse-riding enthusiasts to tie up the looseness of horse-riding in the municipality. We hope to obtain land for this purpose."

"And cars cannot be driven around the lake any more," said Cr. Weaver. "Because recently we erected pine log fencing in two places and across the lake overflow channel."

FISH CHECK

"On the matter of the water level of the lake being raised, this was done by the Board of Works (which controls the lake), in order to flush out the overflow channel through Kim Reserve," said Cr. Weaver.

"Council's vigorous tree-planting scheme in the lake area should also ensure sanctuary for the birds."

"And the fish in the lake are being looked after, too," said Cr. Weaver.

"The Fisheries and Wildlife people are coming down this week to check up on the redfin that were placed in the lake last year due to council's efforts."

If you want to play footie at Altona West Primary School there are two things to remember — keep your eye on the ball and don't get pushed over into the mud. The second rule is a bit hard to keep . . .

THIS PLAYGROUND'S NAME IS MUD

Students at Altona West Primary School spend their recess times playing in water. The water lies there because the school ground is not properly drained.

Teachers on yard duty refuse to wade through the mud and slush to supervise the children.

Shoes last about three weeks because they're constantly wet, the principle, Mr. D. F. Whitecross, said on Friday.

"We are concerned about the loss of time for students who return home for a change of dry clothes after they fall in the water," he said.

He attributed the increase in the number of sick students to the constant dampness of the school yard.

Mr. Whitecross said that for the next five months, the football ground and play area near Grieve Parade would be covered with stagnant pools and the asphalt area would remain saturated.

This would mean the children would never have their feet out of water when they left the school building during the whole winter.

"However the football area is the responsibility of the school committee and parents," Mr. Whitecross said. "A similar development of the area to the high school ovals could be carried out if parents support such a project," he added. "It's simply a case of mud or grass."

FAMILY TREES

Altona's tree-loving mayor, Cr. Harry Weaver, has dreamed up another way to cultivate a love for trees in the municipality.

For the rest of his mayoral term he intends to present a young tree to the mother of every child born at Altona District Hospital.

"I've already made the first presentation," he told the Star this week.

Cr. Weaver will personally present each mother with a neatly wrapped tree, together with a card bearing the baby's name and the best wishes of the mayor and mayoress.

Policeman tells court — "I WOULD HAVE HAD TO KNOCK HIM OUT TO BRING HIM IN"

A solidly-built police sergeant told Williams-town Magistrates' Court last week that he had had problems arresting a 17-year-old youth.

"I would have had to knock him unconscious and put him in the boot of the car to get him to the police station," he said.

Sergeant Brian McCarthy was giving evidence against John Tazzyman, 17, storeman and packer, of Johnstone Street, Newport.

Tazzyman was charged with assault with a rifle and six counts relating to riding an unregistered motor bike without a licence.

Tazzyman lodged a formal plea of not guilty through his barrister, Mr. J. Darvell.

No charges were formally read in the court room.

Sergeant McCarthy told the court that on June 1 and June 2, this year, he saw Tazzyman riding his motor bike down a lane near No. 91 Woods Street, Newport.

He said that on June 2 he intercepted the youth and asked him if he had a licence for the vehicle, if the vehicle was registered and if it was insured.

Sergeant McCarthy said Tazzyman told him he didn't care and that the throttle was broken on his machine.

"I told him I was a policeman," Sergeant McCarthy said.

"He said it did not matter because we all have occupations."

Sgt. McCarthy said he held Tazzyman's gloves in an effort to detain him so he could talk to him.

"After he left I followed him to his house in Johnstone Street, Newport. I was wearing civilian clothes and driving an unmarked car.

"When I reached the block of flats which Tazzyman entered I saw the bike.

"Tazzyman then came to the side of the block with an air rifle in his hands.

"He pointed it at me, but lowered it when I told him not to be silly.

"I then asked him to come with me to the Newport police station, and he attempted to prevent me from getting into the car.

"As I prepared to drive away he bent the aerial on the vehicle."

Sgt. McCarthy said Tazzyman was later taken to the police station.

To Mr. Darvell he said he believed that Tazzyman's attitude had prevented him from giving the youth a warning.

He said he believed the youth was upset because of his broken cable.

Sgt. McCarthy continued: "I believe it was an isolated incident.

"I think he has learned a lesson from it."

To Mr. Darvell, Sgt. McCarthy said the youth could be described as highly strung.

Tazzyman told the court he was distressed at McCarthy's attitude.

"I felt he did not need to take my gloves", he said.

"I was going home to talk to my father about it.

"I was upset about his manner. I did not know why this man wanted to follow me home in a car."

After discussion between Mr. Darvell and the police prosecutor, police withdrew three charges in relation to the riding and the use of the motor bike.

Mr. Wheelhouse, SM, then adjourned the assault with a rifle and malicious damage charges until June, 1974.

He imposed a fine of $100 for riding without a licence, $20 for riding an unregistered bike and $20 for riding an uninsured bike.

Mr. Wheelhouse told Tazzyman: "I view this as a serious offence.

"Take heed and tell all your mates".

ROLICKING ORGAN CLUB MEETING

An enthusiastic audience enjoyed the Western Suburbs Organ Club's rollicking June meeting held in Pennell Hall.

Hosted by Ron Williams, the show started with Graham Woods playing On a Wonderful Day Like Today and Songs of the Sea.

Guest artist, George Mantelov played several trumpet numbers accompanied by Graham on the Wurlitzer.

Two younger club members, Keith Williams and Barry Mayer followed on the Yamaha and piano accordion respectively.

The first half of the programme finished with a bracket from Fred Darch.

Graham Woods returned to the Wurlitzer for another group of melodies.

Ron Williams, accompanied by his 10-year-old son, Roy on drums, gave the Yamaha a workout.

A change of style with Ernie Whitcher at the Lowrey was followed by Mrs. Del Smallwood and daughter, Dianne.

An unrehearsed and hilarious grand finale was enjoyed by all.

When Chars rule

An hilarious comedy just completed a season of The Golden Legion of Cleaning Women will be staged next month by the Altona City Youth Theatre.

The comedy is about a group of cleaning women who take over the finances of Australia and nearly bring its economy crashing down.

Vin Foster, who has

My Fair Lady, is directing the play.

The show will run from July 25-28 at the Altona Civic Centre.

Altona Civic Youth Theatre's aim is to give an activity to young people in the area, where they can meet new people and enjoy similar ideas.

Inquiries about the group or the show could be made through Peter Cheasley on 689 1147.

Over 200 at beach-clean night

More than 200 children and adults attended the Altona Beach-clean Awards Night at the Civic Hall on Tuesday, June 19, when in addition to club and individual awards, Altona Council also allocated funds to the youth groups and service organisations which had participated.

Altona Mayor, Cr. Harry Weaver, was assisted by Crs. Bill Sommers, Les Crofts, and Pat Lynch in the presentation of awards totalling $390.50.

The Operation Beach-clean Shield was again won by the Altona North District Guides and Brownies with a total of 303 hours logged by 129 workers.

The Best Average award went to Altona Lifesaving Club with an average of 8.44 hours per member.

Individual awards were won by Mr. Denis Manager of Altona Youth Club (senior male), Mrs. E. Guard of Altona District Guides and Brownies (senior female), Mr. A. Littler (Altona Lifesaving Club (junior male) and Miss R. Manager, Altona Youth Club (junior female).

Some 1,750 hours were logged by community minded Altona citizens in Operation Beachclean during the past season.

During the presentation of awards, it was announced that 1,750 hours had been logged this season, compared with 1,551 hours last season.

Cr. Weaver expressed the pleasure of council at the continuing support the community was giving to beachclean and general improvement of Altona foreshore. "For each year saw increasing numbers of people using the beach," he said. "Unfortunately, all were not as civic minded as the people who participated in beachclean. The children set an example for others to follow. The Council hopes to develop a greater litter consciousness in the community," he said.

UNLIGHTED TRUCK RAMS INTO TAXI

An unlighted truck collided with a taxi driven by an Altona man at a Footscray intersection, Footscray Court was told last Thursday.

Mr. G. Miller, SM, fined the truck driver $80 for driving with a blood-alcohol content over .05 and $40 for not giving way to the right at an intersection.

He ordered also that Eric Noel Murphy, of Korobark, Queensland, be banned from holding a Victorian driving licence for 12 months.

Kenneth George Pilley, of Blackshaws Road, Altona, told the court he was driving his taxi in Hopkins Street, Footscray about 10.20 p.m. on May 5, 1972, when a truck driven by Murphy came from his left from Moore Street and hit the taxi.

He was more than half way through the intersection when the truck hit him, Mr. Pilley said.

Apart from getting Murphy's name and address he had no conversation with him. He was injured in the crash.

"I would say he did not have his lights on," he added.

Patricia Stoggen, of Boronia, said she was a passenger in the taxi and Mr. Pilley's evidence had been correct.

"The truck wasn't in in any way at all," she said. Constable J. Bradley, of Altona, said he went to the accident scene about 11.15 p.m. then interviewed Murphy at Western General Hospital.

Murphy said he just entered the intersection and hit the taxi. He had been drinking at an hotel in Balarat Road, Footscray, he added.

A breathalyser test was taken at the hospital and showed a .23 reading.

Senior-Sergeant J. E. Skinner, prosecuting, said Murphy did not hold a Victorian driving licence.

IT HAPPENS IN ALTONA

There is something for every boy at the Altona St. Eanswythe Church of England Boys' Society.

Activities include swimming, camping, expeditions, guest speakers, badge work and church parades.

The senior boys are active in the under-16 basketball association. Some boys have also competed for the Duke of Edinburgh award scheme.

The course covers bushwalking, first aid, hobbies and physical activity. The boys look forward to achieving the bronze award in early 1974.

Scouts, Cubs, Guides and Brownies — they all assisted in Altona's big clean-up.

STAR GAZE

YOUNG people who have nothing to do on a Saturday night, can enjoy free coffee and friendship with the Jesus People at the One Way coffee shop which has opened at the Altona Scout Hall in Civic Parade, on Saturday nights.

Big "Gazza" (our local Cokeman and pro tipster) has joined Paul (Buffalo Bill) Cody and his band at the Tarmac Hotel. And getting into the Tarmac on a Saturday evening, lately is pretty hard if you're not there at about 7 p.m. or earlier. Seen there recently were Sandra and Ian.

ALTONA Surf Club recently made a Wednesday night excursion to the Croxton Park. A number of members including Geoff "Mum" Cooper are contemplating a trip north at Christmas with "Life's Creation" a pop group adored by all Altona surfies.

JUI-JITSU enthusiasts at Altona Youth Club last week, received some expert advice from the king of jui-jitsu, Professor Kam Hock Hoe (Panther Hoe) of Malaysia, who is here for black belt gradings at Footscray YMCA. Regular classes in the Japanese art of self defence are held at the youth club on Wednesdays and Fridays each week under Mr. Graeme Renzie, who holds the rank of Master Dan. The classes are getting bigger every week.

TICKETS are still available for the 1973 Altona Mayoral Ball to be held at Shirley Park Reception, Altona North on Friday, July 6. Inquiries should be made to the ticket secretary, Mrs. Lois Wilson, Ph. 398 2244.

Panther Hoe gives hints to youth on jiu-jitsu

Young men who attended last Wednesday night's jiu-jitsu classes at Altona Youth Club, were given a few hints and pointers by jiu-jitsu king, Professor Kam Hock Hoe (alias Panther Hoe) of Malaysia.

Professor Hoe, in Melbourne for black belt gradings at the Footscray YMCA, and his assistant Mr. Mohammed Adib Aba were invited to the class by instructor, Mr. Graham Rennie, who gained his Master Dan rank from the Professor, when he served in the RAAF, in Malaysia.

The classes in the Japanese art of self-defence are growing each week and will soon be held on Friday nights as well as Wednesdays.

Last week about 40 youths attended the lessons which are available for 40 cents a night.

Mr. Rennie is teaching Jiu-jitsu full time at the Footscray YMCA in Errol Street.

Free tree

Members of the Altona branch of the Country Womens' Association want to donate a flowering gum tree to be planted around Cherry Lake.

In a letter to Altona Council, the association requested that council employees plant the tree and forward an account to the branch. Association members have expressed a desire to attend the tree planting.

Public meeting on PAISLEY

Altona Council of Churches will hold a public meeting to discuss the Paisley housing shortage. It will be at Altona North Technical School, on Friday, June 29, at 8 p.m.

Guest speakers will be representatives from the Housing Commission, Board of Works and Altona Council.

CAPERS in the KITCHEN

THEY knew that I'd hung my pans up, given away my kitchen knives and was spending that dead hour between 9 and 10 (when the pubs open) reading philosophy in my cottage by the sea. From cook to book, as it were.

"The least you could do is write," they said. "Even YOUR conscience must stir sometimes. You can't deny a few shreds of your best to your fellow man."

Bullseye! Is there a man with soul so dead, that he won't share his daily bread! (Excuse me while I turn off the Statue de Veau Marengo).

So here I am again, Seaton Beeton back at the Pots (admitting, though, that I'm not quite what I used to be in handling a ten-ouncer).

If you've not heard of me, you would at least remember the name Beeton. Yes, Mrs. B., the Paladin of the Pantry, was an ancestor of mine.

A lot of thought went into my name. At first, I favor Solomon, after the Biblical lawgiver. I'm wise, too. I always know when I'm Beeton. But who'd call me Solomon? I'd be Sol. No flavor of haute cuisine. Sounds like a name on a bookie's bag.

Seaton bowled me. Class. Remember Lord S.? (No, don't. He got mixed up in that funny London business).

But you can hear it, can't you. That diner with the sweat running down his purpling cheeks: "My compliments to Seaton. Please ask him to join us in a glass of champagne." What's wrong with a quid or a tip for the last of the dish-lickers?

Yes, Seaton. It goes with eatin' (on your good days, cheatin', I'll be doing plenty of that), heatin' (what cooking's all about), meetin' (down at the local), neat'n (tidy... you've never seen MY kitchen any other way). OK, I'll get to the point.

What's for tea? How about some soup for openers? See. Steam from the casserole fogs the windows. The sou'westerly ruffles Hobson's Bay. The draught wriggles under the door and bites the toes.

Obviously the night for potage, thick vegetable soup. Lots of lovely vegetables. Let's see what's in the fridge... Strike me, they certainly got through the bottles last night. There's no a lot (of food) but I note some sprouts, two or three carrots, a few bits of tired celery, a little cauliflower. A start. Plenty of spuds and onions. Butter. An egg or two. Milk. A few chicken cubes. We're in business.

Four of us tonight. So it's a couple of big potatoes diced into half-inch cubes, two chopped onions, chopped celery, cut-up sprouts, carrots. And the cauliflower. Even some of the leafy outside bits.

The big pot. A table-spoon or so of butter. We fry the potatoes, celery, onions and carrots gently for a few minutes.

Now the cauliflower and sprouts. We make about two pints of stock with three or four chicken cubes (they do the job).

We season to taste. Salt. Freshly-ground black pepper if we can find some peppercorns and the pepper mill.

We cook our mess of potage until everything's tender. Now a sieve. One of those French-designed mills. Or, better, an electric blender.

We want a puree. A thoroughly-mixed blend without lumps that pours, but not too easily.

Back into the pot with it. We're nearly ready for tea. We heat the puree gently, stirring in a couple of tablespoons of cream mixed in a cup of milk. We feel expansive tonight, so we put in a beaten yolk of egg, too.

We could do without the cream and egg, but it gives the potage that smooth finish.

We make it nice and hot but we don't let it boil. War soup dishes. Now some finely-chopped parsley.

And to the tables. That was a good idea, that bit of crusty, continental bread.

"Seaton, you've done it again," says the Old Bride. The two drop-ins (drop-outs, some would call them) make appreciative noises. And tip their bowls toward themselves, not away. Some people have no table manners.

A final thought: We can put almost any vegetable into a soup done this way. Pumpkin, leeks (beautiful), parsnips. The brew to ensue invariably has an intriguing flavor.

Good eatin', then, till next week. And, remember that the pot that's watched too long goes flat.

Nursing mothers

The next meeting of the Nursing Mothers' Association will be held at the home of Mrs. Margaret Kinton, 38 Wemyss Avenue, Spotswood (phone 314 4317), on Wednesday, July 11, starting at 8 p.m.

Guest speaker will be an infant-welfare sister.

SAFE, $460 CASH GO FROM SHOP

A safe containing $400 in cash was stolen from a Spotswood newsagency last Friday night.

The newsagency is owned by Mr. Alf McCluskey and is in Hope Street, Spotswood, where Mr. McCluskey also lives. The safe contained also cheques with a face value of about $100.

The thieves also stole about $60 in notes and silver and a large quantity of cigarettes from the store.

The theft was between 6.30 p.m. last Friday, when Mr. McCluskey locked up for the night and when he re-opened at 5 a.m. the next day.

Footscray detectives believe the thieves got into the shop through a side door, but there was no sign of a forced entry.

Preserving the old

Mr. G. F. Stirling has written to the Altona Historical Society supporting its stand on the preservation of buildings classified by the National Trust.

The society wrote to Mr. Stirling recommending that legislation be passed restricting the demolition of old or interesting buildings which have been classified by the Trust.

At last Wednesday's meeting, Mr. Roy Edwards spoke on his early family days in Altona.

The society's annual meeting will be held in July and nominations for president, senior and junior vice-presidents, secretary and treasurer should be handed to the secretary as soon as possible.

The branch will be host for the west-central group of historical societies on Tuesday, August 14, at 8 p.m.

Mr. Arthur W. Walker, Altona, will give a talk on Aborigines of the area.

RED SHIELD APPEAL

The Salvation Army will hold its annual Red Shield Appeal Day on Sunday.

The Salvation Army has been in Williamstown for 90 years and had done much in every field of family need.

In the past 12 months this has included the reuniting of families, help to the homeless, guidance to the alcoholic, rehabilitation and other services.

The Army asks you to give as generously as you can.

Anyone wishing to help as a collector should contact Mr. Verdun Newnham or Mr. John Patterson.

BALL TO AID HOSPITAL

Tickets are still available for the 1973 Altona mayoral and citizens charity cabaret ball, which will be held at Shirley Park, Receptions, Altona North, on Friday, July 6.

Patrons of the ball will enjoy non-stop dancing from 8.45 p.m. to 1.30 a.m., for $17 a double.

Proceeds will go to Altona District Hospital.

Tickets are available from the ticket secretary, Mrs. Lois Wilson, phone: 398 2244.

Keep crossings clear

Altona police are watching for parents who park their cars next to school crossings when they call to pick up their children.

"The situation is getting so bad that we may have to blitz these offenders", Chief Inspector Bert Liddell said this week.

HIGH SPEED ACROBATICS

Sidecar racing, that odd but exciting mixture of high speed and acrobatics, is a family affair for the Bayliss duo, from Sydney.

Father Stan is leading on points in the senior division of the Australian sidecar grand prix series, while his 20-year-old son, Steve, is in first slot in the junior class.

Stan and Steve will be at Sandown on Sunday, July 8, to compete in the fourth round of the championship.

At the last Sandown motorcycle meeting, Steve showed his father the way to the chequered flag. In his third year of competition riding, Steve is considered one of the great finds in Australian sidecar racing.

Last year, at the unforgiving Bathurst track, he became the youngest sidecar rider ever to win a major sidecar race. He rides a 650 cc Honda outfit. Dad has a bored-to-1000 cc Honda "four" in his rig.

The Bayliss duo's main competition from the 50 sidecar entries will be Melbourne's Lindsay Urquhart. Earlier this year, Urquhart pushed his Kawasaki outfit around Bathurst to clip three seconds off the outright sidecar record and stop the clocks at 127 miles per hour down Conrod straight.

Former Australian champion Alec Campbell could be another contender in the title hunt, but he has a problem with his outfit — too much power.

Campbell grafted two Yamaha 350 engines together and the output is walloping 100-plus brake horsepower. But the new "four" has too much punch and keeps chewing up drive chains.

The junior and sidecar races are two events on the 19-race programme for motorcycles and cars at Sandown. In the solo classes there are 433 entries — a record for Victoria. Seven championship heats will be run. Racing starts at 11.30 a.m.

Scientists declare war on car tyres

Commenting on recent news items concerning the difficulty of disposing of old motor tyres, public affairs manager of Goodyear Australia, Mr. E. Colin Davis, said all major rubber companies throughout the world are doing extensive work towards a solution of the problem.

Mr. Davis said in Australia groups of scientists were experimenting with liquid nitrogen to quick freeze tyres and then hammer them into a pulverised state.

He said one Goodyear researcher had found that when plants were grown in a mixture of rubber particles (up to 10 per cent.) and soil, the plants emerged from the ground "significantly faster" than normal.

The same rubber particles have proved to be an effective snail killer, setting up an irritation which caused the snails to express the mucus on which they travelled and dehydrating them.

In Jackson, Michigan, USA, and in Wolverhampton, England, Goodyear has set up furnaces using thousands of discarded tyres a day as a fuel to generate steam for new tyre production.

In NSW, Victoria and South Australia, the Fisheries Departments had used old tyres to build artificial reefs in lakes and estuaries to shelter and provide spawning grounds for fish and other marine organisms.

Mr. Davis said that Australia is currently accumulating about two million discarded tyres a year, compared with America's 200 million.

Alterations needed urgently — Kelly

"It would be less than honest to suggest that the new 'stop and give-way' rule was working," says Mr. Athol Kelly, executive vice-president of VACC.

Mr. Kelly states a number of steps needed to be taken if the new rule is to operate satisfactorily.

"The steps involve the State Government, Country Roads Board and municipal authorities," Mr. Kelly says.

"However, the general motoring public need some simple guide-lines, as to how the whole system would be of benefit in reducing the road toll. Until this is done, more and more motorists will become confused and the arguments and fights now taking place at accidents would become commonplace."

Mr. Kelly urges municipal authorities to erect "rocket" (protected intersection signs) as soon as possible.

Super session at Sandown

Supercars, superbikes and the superstars of two and four-wheel racing... that's the bill at Sandown on Sunday, July 8.

The 19-event programme, biggest at the 1.9-mile ultra-fast circuit for many years, has 10 races for cars and nine for motorcycles.

And two titles are at stake — the Australian sports car championship and the Australian Grand Prix for motorcycles.

As well, there is the third round of the $10,000 Toby Lee sports sedan series which will see the long-awaited clash of old rivals, Bob Jackson and Allan Moffat.

In the four-wheel world, the line-up of top drivers includes Peter Brock, John Harvey, Bryan Thomson, Leo Geoghegan, Brian Sampson, Tom Naughton, Jim Smith, David Robertson and Bob Gill.

By makes, the sports se-

Rally and rallycross star, Bob Watson will drive a Holden Kingswood V8 in the remaining rounds of this year's Victorian rally championship.

Holden dealer team manager, Harry Firth announced this last week.

Watson, 34, won the Australian championship in 1970 and the Victorian title in 1968-69-70. He was runner-up to Peter Brock in Victorian rallycross in 1970-72.

He is now leading the State rally series with 15 points.

KING MICIC BACK TO FIGHT THE BRAZILIANS

By LAURIE SCHWAB

Brilliant veteran Frank Micic of Footscray J.U.S.T. returns to the Victorian State soccer team on Sunday for its match against Brazilian team Cruzeiro.

Micic, 33, held the record for the number of State appearances when he lost his place in the team in 1970.

However, his great form this season has made him a natural choice. The motor of the champion ship-bound Footscray team, Micic is again the unchallenged king of Victorian soccer. Against Cruzeiro he'll play a defensive half-back role and he'll be one of at least six State players from teams based in the western suburbs.

The other are goalkeeper Jimmy Millsavljic, full back Marjan Lopatic and strikers Slobodan Zorala and Branko Buljevic of J.U.S.T. and defender Norm Maitland of George Cross.

The western contingent could be even stronger, as State coach Tony Boggi is still undecided on whether he'll use Tammy McMeechan of Juventus or John Gardiner of George Cross.

The Victorian team in 4-1-2-3 formation, will be: Millsavljic (J.U.S.T.), Maitland (George Cross), Steve Walker (Hellas), Sandy Irvine (Juventus), Lopatic (J.U.S.T.), Micic (J.U.S.T.), McMeechan (Juventus) or Gardiner (George Cross), Peter Bourne (Hellas), Zorala (J.U.S.T.), Jim Armstrong (Hellas), Buljevic (J.U.S.T.).

Former Altona City star Mike Micevski, who's now with Hakoah, will be on the bench and will probably get a run in the second half.

Cruzeiro, which thrilled Melbourne fans when it beat Victoria 4-1 and Slovan Bratislava 3-0 in January, 1972, will have the same appeal this time.

The incredible Dircen Lopes, a member of the Brazilian national squad will again be seen here despite early reports that he might be held up on national team duty.

Linnkman Zecarlos, goalkeeper, Raul and winger Eduardo will also tour.

However, it is not certain whether we'll see Piazza, now the captain of the Brazil's national team.

Tostao will not come, as he has been transferred to Vasco Da Gama.

There will be plenty of ball artistry from the Brazilians during their last visit and believe Victoria would do best if it were to attack during the match rather than defend.

He said Cruzeiro was a cautious team which went forward hesitantly and attacked mainly with two men.

If Victoria does the attacking, Cruzeiro would be reluctant to come out and would concentrate mainly on quick break-aways against which the Victorians would have to be on guard.

So much for tactics. The greatest difference between the teams will of course be skill and Boggi is well aware of that.

Unfortunately, our players can't counter this skill.

Hertha next

German soccer stars Reinhard Groeger and Reinhard Hollman who last year saved State League club Keilor Austria from relegation, will return to Melbourne next month.

DIETER WINTER, 19, youngest member of the Hertha Berlin team which will visit Melbourne on July 23. Scored 17 goals last season.

This time however, they'll have no interest in Victorian soccer, apart from wanting to show the stuff they play is far superior.

Groeger, Hollman and West Germany's top goalscorer Norbert Stolzenburg will be in the Hertha Berlin team which will appear at Olympic Park on Monday night, July 23.

Its opponent will be either the Victorian State team or a combination of players from Keilor Austria and another State League club.

Hertha, which plays in the Berlin regional league, has visited Melbourne on two previous occasions. In 1970 it drew 1-1 with Victoria and in 1972 it drew 2-2 with Ringwood Wilhelmshafen.

Stolzenburg, 21, a former German junior international, scored 33 goals in the season just completed — two more than Germany's World Cup star Gerd Mueller.

It will be Stolzenburg's last tour with Hertha, as he has been sold to Rapid Vienna for $43,000.

Groeger, 24, has represented Berlin 11 times and played for two years in the West German national league for Hertha BSC.

On its way to Melbourne, Hertha Berlin will play against Australia's remaining World Cup opponents Iran and South Korea.

It will also meet Burma, Hong Kong, Singapore, the Philippines, South Vietnam, New Zealand, New Caledonia, Tahiti and club teams in Mexico and the United States.

Hertha will include four current German junior internationals — Guttenmorgen, Sackwitz, Burkhardt and Hoenicke, plus winger Elma Geirsson who has represented Iceland 29 times.

Trouble at match

Altona City will lodge an official protest to the Victorian Soccer Federation over the behavior of spectators at last week's match against Western Suburbs.

Altona official Sam Wilson said that at half-time, Altona players David Cooper and David Lord were struck by spectators and that the referee held up the match for 15 minutes, waiting for police to arrive.

Mr. Wilson added that spectators also came onto the pitch at half-time.

"I've never seen anything like it in my life," Mr. Wilson said.

Albion Rovers v. Makedonia

The Albion Rovers v. Makedonia clash at Selwyn Park, Sunshine, on Saturday, is the highlight of this week's Metropolitan League round.

Albion is second on the ladder but could draw level on points with Makedonia if it wins on Saturday.

Both teams are made up mainly of former State League players. Albion has Ernie Ackerley (Hellas), John Pryde (Juventus), George Cross and Hellas), Bill Rae (Hakoah), Gordon Douglas (Hakoah), Dennis Boland (Hakoah) and Hugh Murney (Hakoah and Lions).

Makedonia features Albert Harrison (George Cross), Bobby McLaughlin (George Cross), Rob Hayward (George Cross), John Hagar (Box Hill), Alex Glennie (Alexander) and Ian Reid (Slavia and Altona).

Reid has scored almost 20 goals already, and he'll prove the most dangerous forward on the ground.

It'll be an interesting tactical battle between two coaches who have a wealth of experience behind them — Murney of Albion and McLaughlin of Makedonia.

ELMA GEIRSSON, 24, Hertha Berlin's goal-scoring winger, who has represented his native Iceland 29 times.

Frankston v. Sunshine

After putting on a terrible performance against Ajax last week, Sunshine may be in more trouble against the defensive Frankston on Saturday.

I understand that Jim McRobert, Herbie Seenan and Mick Banagan are all carrying injuries.

This, together with the likely suspension of playing coach Jim McIntyre, could hit Sunshine hard.

One consolation is that Frank Musella played well in the reserves and should be back in the senior team.

If injuries do keep out key players, Sunshine's reserves depth will really be tested.

Ajax v. Wests

Western Suburbs did well to hold Altona to a 2-2 draw last week, with goals by Eddy Klimczak and Jim Kypridis.

However, Ajax is playing defensive soccer by necessity, and is determined to pick up points regularly so it is not relegated.

And when Ajax is pinned in defence for long periods, evergreen Charlie Vella is at his most dangerous, as the chance for a quick breakaway presents itself.

Whereas Altona attacked last week in quest of victory, Ajax will defend desperately, making it much harder for the West's attackers.

In my book, it looks like a draw.

Altona v. Lions

Altona did well last week to fight back after being two goals down.

Ian Hynds pulled one back in the 42nd minute from the penalty spot, after Steve Burns had been brought down in the area, and David Cooper clinched the draw with a goal from 30 yards in the 75th minute.

Having achieved this difficult task, the Altona players will welcome the slight drop in class when they play Lions at Kim Reserve on Saturday.

Although Lions are undefeated for four weeks, they are not a good team and certainly not up to Altona's standard.

St. Albans v. Springvale

It's amazing what two wins can do.

For St. Albans, the wins have lifted the team from last place to seventh and have given the players new confidence.

If Eric Lindberg and his forwards remain on target, the Saints have nothing to fear from relegation, although they're still only three points clear of the bottom.

On Saturday they meet Springvale at Churchill Reserve and if they win this one, they can forget their worries.

Ringwood v. Keilor

Although Keilor City has had only one win in the past seven weeks, it should be able to dispose of Ringwood away on Saturday.

Kazik Klain and Peter Marshall are back in defence and this more than compensates for the loss of George Nierobicz to Polonia.

I understand Keilor has abandoned the orthodox formation and this should also pay dividends — eventually.

In Eddy Kupicz, John Grady, Stan Klain and Serge Karbamenko Keilor has an excellent attack, so it's about time they started scoring a few goals.

VIP match

In a bid to strengthen its ties with the local community, Polonia turned on its hospitality for local dignitaries at last week's match against Footscray J.U.S.T. at Raleigh Reserve.

Among the VIP's were the member for Melbourne West, Cr. Bon Thomas, the mayor of Footscray, Cr. Fred Maddern, Sunshine councillor Ted Coulson and Dave Berry and Footscray councillor Mrs. Sika Kerry whose husband George is a Polonia committeeman.

Also present were former Sunshine councillor Des Evans and the man he hopes will replace him in the coming election, Mr. Ian Mills.

Bon Thomas watched the game with interest and was given a running explanation by GERHARD SCHULTE, 48, coach of Hertha and former coach of German Bundesliga team Hertha BSC.

Dave Berry, who's president of Albion Rovers.

Bon, an avid Aussie Rules fan, kept referring to the goalkeeper as the full-back. No matter how hard Dave tried, he couldn't change Bon's mind.

J.U.S.T. won the match through a penalty converted by Slobodan Zorala.

Although Polonia fought gamely and marked playmaker Frank Micic out of the game, it simply could not match the skill of the J.U.S.T. players, who hit the woodwork three times.

With David Closs sticking to Micic, J.U.S.T. linkman John Mracinkiewicz found enough space to play his best match of the season.

Branko Buljevic was the best forward afield and Eddy Marshall the best defender. Bernie Klimczak at left back also had a good match, as did Mike Olinowski, Ron Horfiniak and Miro Litwin.

Marjan Lopatic caused Polonia a lot of headaches when he moved up from defence and Jovan Milinovic was solid in the J.U.S.T. rearguard.

Footscray goalkeeper had little opportunity to show the skills that will win him an Australian cap but everything he was asked to do, he did with true professionalism.

DRIVERS GUIDE TO ROAD LAW

Confusion over the new "protected intersection" law and other road laws, is giving concern to motorists, and particularly those people soon to take a driver's licence test.

Aimed at overcoming the problems associated with obtaining a driver's licence, next Monday "The Age" will publish a complete guide to road law.

Prepared by "The Age" in conjunction with the Road Safety and Traffic Authority and the RACV, the guide includes a comprehensive study of the road test — the questions and the answers — including the 5 main questions which you must be able to answer automatically.

Linking with the questions there are many diagrams and illustrations which clearly explain the numerous road laws which confuse drivers. Here the new "protected intersection" law is fully explained. There are also diagrams of regulatory and warning signs on Victorian roads.

This free life-out guide from "The Age" sets out a series of road definitions. These must be learnt in order to pass the oral test.

The guide also covers the requirements necessary for a licence to ride a motor-cycle.

The oral, eye and hearing tests, the documents required by persons aged 18-19, and migrants — in fact everything you need to know to help you get a driver's licence, is covered in this guide.
